Dear Congresswoman Sanchez, Senators Feinstein & Boxer:

For too long, Washington has not been listening to the American people. The facts are clear -- Obamacare is not working.

I would have done anything to stand on the Senate floor this week to give you a voice and make the case that Washington should listen to the American people. We must defund Obamacare.

Americans across the country are being hurt because of Obamacare. And because of it, the American people are disgusted with Washington.

Millions of Americans who oppose Obamacare have been told by politicians in Washington that "it doesn't matter," that "it can't be done," and "we can't defund it."

The Senate is currently debating the bipartisan House-passed bill to defund Obamacare and fully fund the government. The Senate should pass it. As early as tomorrow, there will be a final cloture vote to cut off debate, which would allow Senator Harry Reid to add Obamacare funding back into the House bill.

You should very strongly oppose final cloture to protect the House bill and keep debate going.

The American people are rising up and making their voices heard in Congress.

It is time for Washington politicians from both parties to listen to the American people.

Respectfully

Jim Davis
