This-N-That

This past week I've read more and more on Homeless Veterans and Military Sexual Assault and have had a few Veterans contact me to tell me their stories too!

The homeless Veteran situation is still not being addressed adequately by the VA, and as far as they seem to be concerned they're right on track on resolving this year, but we're only in January, so we're anticipating the goal line to be moved once again.

The grants that have expired, are not being renewed as anticipated as many of the grants are being looked at again in Committee, chances are to place even further restrictions on them only to make it harder for those who oversee the grants to use the funds to do the job they need to get done.

Women and men who have experienced MST (Military Sexual Trauma) while in the service have had to deal with a host of serious issues.

When following protocol and reporting up the chain of command, most have been put through hell, derogatory letters and comments placed in their records, medical tests have vanished, demotion, even OTH discharges, then those who are victims have to fight like hell to get any benefits or medical care.

In the mean time we've seen how Congress has strung this out for well over a year and the problem is still not being addressed to care for those who served and those who are the perpetrators are not being brought to justice, or as we saw last year a commanding officer overturned a Courts Martial ruling and reinstated an officer, and then that officer was allowed to retire with full benefits.

I can only imagine just how fast this would have been handled if a few female members of Congress were assaulted, not that I wish that on anyone, it's never deserved, but like with anything when it comes to Congress unless they themselves are affected, they will drag their feet.

Veteran suicide is also still a very serious problem and still not being fully addressed or quickly either. With one suicide every 65 minutes which we still feel is very under reported.

But day after day, week after week, month after month we're still not seeing any real serious action within Congress.

Congressman Tim Walz has presented another bill, and this time we're seriously hoping strong debate will happen and a rock solid bill will come out of this, and immediate attention to those who have served is provided.

Have you lost a loved one, friend, buddy who served our Country? We'd like very much to honor them by placing their picture and what ever information you'd like to have others know in our memorial pages.

Visit today <http://veterans-for-change.org/gallery3/> and do let us know how we can best honor your loved one or friend.

If you're a member on Face Book, be sure to visit our Faced Book Page for Veterans-For-Change and like us, and spread the word! If you're a fan of Twitter, be sure to visit us there and follow us!

And if you have not been to or visited our website lately, take a visit today. We've now opened up 80% of the system and you're not required to subscribe, which is and always will be 100% free. We're still looking for someone who is talented at Microsoft Access to write a few databases for us. If you have those talents, and can volunteer some time, please E-Mail me.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, Advocacy Group Members and Volunteers nationwide, we wish you and your family good health and Happy New Year!

New Suicide Prevention Law

The new Jacob Sexton Military Suicide Prevention Act was recently signed into law by President Obama. It includes language that will require all members of the U.S. Military -- active, National Guard and reserve -- to receive annual mental health assessments beginning in 2015. The legislation also requires an evaluation of existing mental health practices and provides measures to keep the privacy of service members who seek mental health care. The new law was named for an Indiana National Guardsman who took his own life during a 15-day leave from Afghanistan. The text of the original bill is available at GovTrack.us.

Another Security Breach at VA

Recently the VA has sustained another data breach, putting more than 7,000 veterans at risk of identity theft. A potential flaw in one of VA's patient databases managed by a vendor to provide home telehealth services may have exposed personal information of veterans. The security flaw could have exposed veterans' data, including name, address, date of birth, phone number and VA patient identification number, via the Internet. VA has notified and offered credit protection to all 7,054 veterans in the database.

Tax Season is Just Around the Corner

As wage and earning statements will soon be available for Soldiers and civilian employees online at www.mypay.dfas.mil, base tax centers are gearing up to provide free tax-preparation and e-filing services. In January, the Internal Revenue Service, or IRS, will train and certify tax filers. Military ID cardholders, including Soldiers, DoD civilians and retirees who wish to use the free tax-preparation and e-filing services should have all of their income documents, including prior year tax returns, W-2s, 1099s, mortgage statements, and receipts, along with social security cards, and bank account and routing numbers ready when they meet with the preparers. This is especially true for taxpayers with complicated returns, such as capital gains, rental real estate income or loss, foreign earned income or foreign taxes paid, or multiple state income tax returns. For more information, contact your servicing legal assistance office or tax center.

FROM MILITARY-VETERANS ADVOCACY

OK here is the update in the waning days of the 113th Congress. The news is not good. Across the board, there were significant losses, especially in the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA).

First of all, HR 543 will die despite having 258 co-sponsors. We will reintroduce next year and will attempt to submit the bill with a large number of returning sponsors. So please CALL or write your member of Congress, ask them to contact Congressman Chris Gibson (R-NY19) and sign on the new Blue Water Navy Vietnam Veterans Act. We will be taking a more proactive role to craft a Congressional Budget Office score and identify offsets to get this bill moving.

Two of our HR 543 sponsors have been elected to the Senate. We are hoping that one or both of them, (Senators-Elect Steve Daines R-MT and Shelley Moore Capito R WV) and perhaps several others will join with Senator Gillibrand (D-NY) to introduce a companion bill. We also hope that the new Chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, Senator Johnny Isakson R-GA will help move this bill forward. We don't know the ranking member yet but it might be Sen Jon Tester D-MT who has been a friend to us in the past.

Our ship count provision was struck from the NDAA on the insistence of the Senate. Based on the fact that 308 ships have been identified in inland waters, we think we can move past this by doing our own analysis. Anyone with deck logs showing service in the rivers or tied to a pier, whose ship has not made the VA. list, please contact John Rossie via www.bluewaternavy.org

The religious freedom provisions of the House version fo the NDAA were struck at the insistence of the Senate.

Tricare co-pay increases and housing allowance reductions were included in the final version at the insistence of the Senate. The House did minimize some of these increases over what the Senate bill originally called for. On a positive note, the provision that would have tightened judicial review of correction board issues was not enacted.

We had a hearing on the VA's Motion to Dismiss the Blue Water Navy court suit, Being honest it was a tough hearing. The Judge has taken the matter under advisement. I will let you know hat happened when we get the decision. Thanks to all that attended.

Being a perennial New Orleans Saints fan, I've learned to adopt the old saying "Wait `til next year." We did not win the Super Bowl this time but WE WILL BE BACK!

We need to HIRE a RECRUITER

Someone who can connect with non-profits and other organizations serving people on disability benefits (SSI or SSDI) and ENCOURAGE them to activate their 'Ticket to Work' by assigning their 'Ticket' to an Employment Network – such as The WorkPlace Ca – and thereby increase their income by work and make their life HAPPIER.

Since we were founded in 1986, in Santa Ana, we have always believed that 'WORK IS LIFE'

We also believe that 'WORK IS DIGNITY' and that while disability benefits are a blessing, when you have no other choice, disability benefits will never get you to Hawaii or on other interesting life tracks.

Who should the RECRUITER be?

Someone also on SSI or SSDI benefits (and/or VA disability benefits).

Someone comfortable on the phone and able to visit organizations in their home offices here in So Cal, (in a wheelchair, or otherwise physically limited, is no problem and may be a positive).

Following success with recruitment, we will train on how to deliver job placement and job retention services to some of our new clients and that will also be very satisfying.

PLEASE CALL US, if interested. 714/972-2605

America's Veterans United

Is an advocacy group on Yahoo Groups developed to fight for the benefits, care, facilities, caring and compassionate fully licensed medical professionals, updated and properly operated VA Medical Facilities.

Are you sick and tired of the "business as usual" attitude, or the "delay, deny, until they die" attitude?

Are you able to give 30-60 minutes of your time per month to help develop and send letters to all 535 members of Congress each month in an attempt to force Congress into getting off their seats and actually doing something for Veterans vs. their usual lip service?

And are you sick and tired of all the other organizations who say they are fighting for you, but have shown decades of really not doing much for you?

Then join us, we do more than use membership numbers to fight, we actually have you working with us in the fight. Take control of your health and medical care and help us fight for you.

If interested, check out our page on Yahoo Groups:

https://groups.yahoo.com/neo/groups/Americas_Veterans_United/info

If you're not a member of any Yahoo Group, and not familiar with the system but want to join in the fight, you can do so via E-Mail as well:

americas_veterans_united-subscribe@yahoogroups.com

One really good thing about America's Veterans United, it won't cost you one thin dime, no membership dues, not postage costs, just your time and your computer.

Help us to help you and your fellow Veterans in the fight!

~ ALL HANDS ON DECK ~

We have an immediate need for your help!

We need to get as many Valentine's Day Cards and hard candy as we can get to send to our troops on foreign soil!

We want to send them a little something "from home" to let them know we support them and their actions 100% and we're behind them all the way, and that we have not, nor will we ever forget them!

Help us to brighten their day, put a smile on their faces, something I'm sure we all know they have little of!

Also if you have information on a Platoon who needs TLC, and you can provide an address of the Postal Officer, we can use those too.

Deadline to receive cards and candies is January 25, 2015!

To send the cards & candy send to:

Veterans fought for us; we continue to fight for our veterans!

Operation Interdependence is a 501C3 nonprofit 100% volunteer organization (no salaries) supporting our deployed military not just in conflict zones but around the world, on land and sea.

Our mission is to let them know that citizens at home support all they do to keep us free. Every month we send enough Civilian Rations® to commanders for everyone in the unit so no one is left out; for many it is the only communication they receive from home. We are DOD approved sending only approved items. To sign up go to www.oidelivers.org and fill out our "military registration" form. For questions or concerns email our national president Karon Carley at carley@oidelivers.org.

Many oversized products are given to veterans, and/or families left behind. Thank you all for your service and for our freedom.

E-Prescribing Introduced Into Military Health System

The Defense Health Agency announced that the Military Health System has deployed electronic prescribing in military pharmacies across its system of clinics and hospitals in the United States (and in Guam and Puerto Rico).

This capability will allow civilian providers to send prescriptions electronically to military pharmacies, reducing the need for handwritten prescriptions.

E-prescribing is a safe and efficient option already adopted by most civilian pharmacies and providers. It can help reduce prescription errors and has the potential to decrease wait times at military pharmacies. When a prescription comes into a pharmacy electronically, it allows the pharmacist to resolve issues before the patient arrives.

Beneficiaries can ask their doctor to look for their local military pharmacies in the e-prescribing database/networks. Military hospitals and clinics will not be able to accept electronic prescriptions for controlled substances. Beneficiaries will still need a hand written prescription for these medications.

Recap of 2014 Military and Veteran Legislation

MOAA's government relations team spent 2014 educating and informing members of Congress on the unique aspects of military service and defending key pay and benefits in order to ensure the continued viability of the All-volunteer Force and appropriate recognition for military families who have shouldered the burden of more than 13 years of combat operations. With the recent passage by Congress and signing by the President of the 2015 National Defense Authorization Act, it's time to recap some of the wins and frustrations and also provide a peek at what we expect will be driving our advocacy agenda for 2015.

Services at Your Base Legal Office

A base legal office provides professional, ethical, accurate, and timely legal advice and services to the commanders, Soldiers, family members, and qualified civilian employees. When making an appointment, provide the legal office with the following: name, topic for which you require assistance, phone number and email address where you can be reached and the names of other persons involved in the issue (if any). Persons normally eligible for legal assistance services include service members on active duty and their dependents, retired or disabled service members and their dependents. Proof of eligibility is required upon appointment scheduling or arrival (i.e. Military identification card). For more information, contact your base legal office.

What Is a VA-Guaranteed Loan?

Veterans Administration-guaranteed loans are made by private lenders to eligible veterans for the purchase of a home, which must be their own personal occupancy. Veterans apply for a loan through a lender and if the loan is approved the VA guarantees a portion of the total loan. Lenders include banks, credit unions or mortgage companies. VA's guarantee allows the veteran to obtain a competitive interest rate without a down payment. The amount of the loan a veteran can be approved for depends on the property location and entitlement available, as well as credit and income factors. For more information, visit the VA Home Loans webpage on Military.com.

More Veterans Owning Businesses

A growing group of veterans are not looking for jobs; they are looking to create them. Veterans are 45 percent more likely to be self-employed than people with no military experience. Aging census data show that at least 2.4 million U.S. Businesses are veteran-owned, but experts say the number could be twice that. Exit surveys of new vets leaving the military found that nearly one quarter are interested in starting or buying their own small businesses. The percentage is even higher among women veterans. Across the country, universities, the government and nonprofits are beginning to focus on assisting veterans who want to begin start-ups. There is even a magazine called Vetpreneur. For information on programs for veteran entrepreneurs in your area, contact your state department of veterans affairs.

Caring for and supporting wounded, ill and injured Soldiers and their families is an enduring mission and sacred obligation.
