This-N-That

There are a few things currently going on that have me more than just a little aggravated with the VA Healthcare System, but what has come to the forefront are the increase in Veteran Suicides in the parking lots of VA Medical Centers across the country, and the VA is "shocked!"

When you have a Veteran crying out for help, landing on the VA Medical Centers Emergency Room, they face rejection by uncaring, non-compassionate licensed healthcare professionals who took an oak, and part of that oath is "first, do no harm!"

Rejecting a Veteran in need, begging for help is certainly DOING HARM!

Just because they've not strictly adhered to the "procedures" of filing a claim with the VA, getting approved there should be a simple work around for this!

In my eyes, that work around is giving them the help they need, connecting them with an advocate who can complete the necessary paperwork and helping to push it through to get approved all the while giving the proper and much needed medical care and mental health attention they desperately need!

But no, they can't bend the rules one bit, pretty much kicking the Veteran crying for help to the curb and frankly not giving a damn that they just might go out to the parking lot and blow their brains out or do something else causing their death.

Seriously, how many more lives will it cost until Secretary Wilkie imposes changes to wake up his medical staff to address this problem quickly, efficiently, effectively and prevent another loss of life?

In my eyes Wilkie and his entire licensed medical staff have blood on their hands! A lot of blood on their hands! And they just don't seem to care one ounce!

Then we have Veterans who are accustomed to going on base for medical care being forced off base to private care providers.

If it's a matter of insufficient staff, then isn't that a clue to hire more? Especially when they're claiming to be cutting costs, well sending to private providers is actually increasing costs as most private care providers negotiate fees and there simply is no way that anyone can convince me they're saving money as private care providers have to pay property taxes, higher wages, higher insurance premiums, higher supply costs, it goes on and on.

Again this move makes absolutely no sense at all, but hey, who cares, you're just a Veteran who wrote a check to the United States Government for an amount up to and including your life, so why should they care?

President Trump signed a budget which gets the VA an increase of $22.6 billion dollars with a chunk of that going to cover wages and salaries for licensed medical staff, and with a projected increase of 33,000 plus Veterans enrolling into the VA Healthcare System.

Of that $22.6 billion Blue Water Veteran Claims have a budget of only $137 million which to me knowing what all has been going on, the number of BWN Veterans out there tells me we headed for an onslaught of claim denials all due to a limited budget.

I could be wrong, but I think it's the VA's Modus operandi to deny claims based on amount of budgeted money available. Otherwise why would so many claims be denied, and some repeatedly denied, other than the illness isn't covered?

I would still like to hear Veterans stories on the following:

- Claim Denials (any reason)
- MST (Military Sexual Trauma)
- Service at local VAMC (Good, bad and ugly)
- Specific

If you choose to tell me your story, any contact or identifying information will be redacted and protected.

Your stories are needed to attention to various problems, comments on service, can be addressed with Congress in the hopes we can all work together to make change!

Our web master has been working on the site for a couple of weeks now, seems we had some upgrades in the backside which would not be noticeable to you, but it did affect operation of the site and most if not all of those have been corrected.

Two items have been corrected or changed one I did test last night and it does have a hiccup and is being worked on, that's the "Contact Us" page. And I anticipate this will be in working order with a few days.

Polls have been upgraded and repaired, but I've not had a chance to test as of yet, the old polls are there now and in full color and they can be viewed. Some will be reactivated, old polls not needed will be removed and some new ones added, so do check that from time to time, you will be able to see the difference.

If you subscribe, you will receive an authentication E-Mail with a link which will finalize your subscription, this is a security measure, so if it doesn't come into your IN box with a couple of minutes, please be sure to look in your spam or junk folder for it. It is time sensitive.

Should you not authenticate, don't worry, I do check every couple of days and I manually approve accounts and will send you a "Welcome E-Mail."

Remember as of 03/01/20 some libraries will be restricted to subscribers only, and the downloads will be stream lined as well.

On behalf of our Volunteers nationwide and myself, we wish you and your family good health!

Special Extra Earnings for Military Service

Under certain circumstances, special extra earnings for your military service from 1940 through 2001 can be credited to your record for Social Security purposes. These extra earnings may help you qualify for Social Security or increase the amount of your Social Security benefit. Special extra earnings are granted for periods of active duty or active duty for training. Social Security cannot add these extra credits to your record until you file for Social Security benefits. (Note: Special extra earnings are not granted for inactive duty training.)

How You Get Credit For Special Extra Earnings
The information that follows applies only to active duty military service earnings from 1940 through 2001. Here's how the special extra earnings are credited:

Service In 1978 through 2001

For every $300 in active duty basic pay, you are credited with an additional $100 in earnings up to a maximum of $1,200 a year. If you enlisted after September 7, 1980, and didn't complete at least 24 months of active duty or your full tour, you may not be able to receive the additional earnings. Check with Social Security for details.

Service In 1957 Through 1977

You are credited with $300 in additional earnings for each calendar quarter in which you received active duty basic pay.

Service In 1940 Through 1956

If you were in the military during this period, including attendance at a service academy, you did not pay Social Security taxes. However, your Social Security record may be credited with $160 a month in earnings for military service from September 16, 1940, through December 31, 1956, under the following circumstances:

You were honorably discharged after 90 or more days of service, or you were released because of a disability or injury received in the line of duty; or You are still on active duty; or

You are applying for survivors benefits and the veteran died while on active duty.

You cannot receive credit for these special extra earnings if you are already receiving a federal benefit based on the same years of service. There is one exception: If you were on active duty after 1956, you can still get the special earnings for 1951 through 1956, even if you're receiving a military retirement based on service during that period.

Some Retirees Have Already Been Pushed to Off-Base Providers in Tricare Shift

Military retirees receiving care on bases nationwide are being quietly shifted to off-base civilian providers in a transition that has been taking place since at least 2018, Military.com has learned. That's independent of a plan outlined in a recently obtained memo that would close 38 treatment facilities to all but active-duty patients. Read more here.

What's at the Heart of TRICARE Coverage? Keeping Yours Healthy

It's the season for cupid, chocolates, and roses. Around Valentine's Day, people focus on pledging their hearts to loved ones. It's also an ideal time to pledge to take care of your heart health. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, one in every four American deaths is due to heart disease. Fortunately, heart disease is often preventable. Making lifestyle changes and using your TRICARE benefit can help prevent heart disease and keep you healthy.

It's Official: Troops Get Another Big Pay Raise in 2021 Budget Request

The proposed military pay raise for fiscal 2021 in the Defense Department's budget request, released Monday, is 3%, the second-highest pay raise for troops since 2010. The 3% raise, following 2020's 3.1% bump, ensures that the troops will be "well compensated" and underlines DoD's recognition that military and civilian personnel "are our most valuable resource" in carrying out the 2018 National Defense Strategy to counter China and Russia, according to the Pentagon's budget overview. The total Pentagon budget request for fiscal 2021 totals $705.4 billion, part of a defense spending package with a $740 billion topline. Read more here.

VA Gets Big Budget Boost, DoD Gets Small Increase

FRA Director of Legislative Programs John Davis and Assistant Director of Legislative Programs Theo Lawson attended the Department of Veterans Affairs budget briefing on the agency's proposed FY2021 budget. It includes a $22.6 billion increase (10.2 percent) from the current budget. The proposed budget provides for 14,000 more employees, of which 7,000 are medical staff. The VA anticipates more than 33,000 veterans to enroll in VA healthcare.

The VA budget also provides for $1.2 billion increase ($485 million more than 2020) for the Caregiver program, which includes the expansion of the FRA supported program. The budget also includes $137 million to support the processing of Blue Water Navy disability claims. Since the first week of January, the VA has received 14,000 BWN claims and has paid $7.5 million in retroactive benefit payments to 218 veterans and their survivors. The VA expects a total of 70,000 BWN claims. The proposed budget provides $2.6 billion to modernize the electronic health records (EHR). The process will provide a seamless transition to the VA for injured or wounded service members.

The DoD budget request for FY21 is consistent with the bipartisan budget agreement Congress passed in 2019. The agency's resources are essentially unchanged from last year's amounts. To compensate, Secretary Esper and our military leaders are implementing reforms and repurposing resources from lower priority functions to programs essential to the National Defense Strategy. The DoD has again requested a 18,000-billet cut in military medical staff.

VFW Commander Visits Tampa VA

On Thursday, VFW National Commander William “Doc” Schmitz visited the James A. Haley VA Hospital to continue the important conversation about the significance of traumatic brain injury in our military. He met with several top medical professionals and observed hands-on treatment measures that our veterans and active duty Special Operators intensely experience at the facility. “VFW applauds the Tampa VA’s Polytrauma unit, during this visit I witnessed a remarkable level of professionalism and care provided to American’s veterans,” Schmitz said. His goal is to request more funding, research and personnel from Congress during his special joint hearing dedicated to this “hidden wound.”

Death Certificates Required to Schedule Double Interments in National Cemeteries

The National Cemetery Scheduling Office (NCSO) requests the assistance of funeral homes to alleviate an on-going issue with the scheduling of double interments of Veterans with their spouses in VA national cemeteries.

NCA is required to verify the marital relationship between a Veteran and spouse at the time of death.[1] This is accomplished through review of the death certificate for the pre-deceased individual.

In order to comply with the requirement, we must ask you to provide the death certificate prior to calling to schedule a double interment. The NCSO will defer scheduling either interment until the pre-deceased death certificate can be verified.

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation in this matter as we continue to look for ways to improve our service to Veterans and their family members.

Report Recommends Some MTFs to Be Closed to Retirees

A delayed report to Congress, mandated by the FY2017 Defense Authorization Act, recommends that 36 Military Treatment Facilities (MTF) stop seeing retirees and their dependents. FRA Director of Legislative Programs John Davis and several other TMC members met with senior Defense Health Agency officials about the report's suggestion of rightsizing

MTF utilization. The report will go to Congress next week, and at that time the specific MTFs will be released. In the FY2017 NDAA, Congress mandated a rightsizing, realignment and restructuring of the direct care system. The DoD claims these changes are needed to ensure the DHA has focus on combat readiness of the military.

SVAC Holds Hearing

The Senate Veterans' Affairs Committee held an oversight hearing on the implementation of the Department of Veterans Affairs, Community Care Network (CCN) program that was part of the VA MISSION Act. Senior officials of the Veterans Health Administration (VHA) and the CEOs of both CCN providers testified at the hearing. All the witnesses claimed that the implementation of CCN is progressing smoothly. There were questions about the pace at which providers are being reimbursed as well as the backlog of provider payments on the VA's books. The VA is working on new processes to speed up the turnaround time for reimbursements. They expect to be caught up by the fall. The issue was raised that CCN contracts do not reflect MISSION Act standards for community care. The contracts were awarded prior to the MISSION Act's passage into law. The VA pledged to move toward MISSION Act standards with the program and the CEOs both testified that they will strive to meet the MISSION Act's more stringent standards for access and timeliness.

VA Ramps Up Mental Health Funding After Rash of Parking Lot Suicides

The Department of Veterans Affairs is proposing spending $682 million more next fiscal year on mental health issues, and ramping up funding for suicide prevention efforts by one-third, as it faces Congressional scrutiny over a series of tragic incidents on VA premises over the past year. The VA's budget request for fiscal 2021, released Feb. 10, totals $243.3 billion -- a dramatic 10% increase from 2020. In addition to resourcing mental health and suicide prevention, it would nearly double the amount of funding for a joint VA-Defense Department effort to create a merged electronic health records system and provide a 9% increase to the budget for women's health care. Sulayman stressed the need for VA to make "data security and privacy a foundational priority." Watch the hearing.

Thought I'd Share

I don't know who the author is, but I thought I would share it with you.

I watched the flag pass by one day,
It fluttered in the breeze;
A young Marine saluted it,
And then he stood at ease.

I looked at him in uniform,
So young, so tall, so proud;
With hair cut square and eyes alert,
He'd stand out in any crowd.

I thought . . . how many men like him
Had fallen through the years?
How many died on foreign soil?
How many mothers' tears?

How many pilots' planes shot down
How many died at sea
How many foxholes were soldiers' graves

I heard the sound of Taps one night,
When everything was still;
I listened to the bugler play,
And felt a sudden chill;

I wondered just how many times
That Taps had meant "Amen"
When a flag had draped a coffin
Of a brother or a friend;

I thought of all the children,
Of the mothers and the wives,
Of fathers, sons and husbands.
With interrupted lives.

I thought about a graveyard
At the bottom of the sea,
Of unmarked graves in Arlington.

President Signed Bill to Enhance STEM Careers for Veterans and Military Spouses

President Trump signed into law the Supporting Veterans in STEM Careers Act (S.153), which was sponsored by Sen. Marco Rubio (Fla). The act will assist veterans who are re-entering the workforce by directing the National Science Foundation to encourage veterans to pursue careers in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM). The act mandates the NSF's Office of Science and Technology to establish an interagency working group to increase veteran and military spouse representation in the STEM field.

VA Doctors Using Artificial Intelligence to Diagnose Cancer

A team of researchers at the James A. Haley Veterans' Hospital in Tampa, Florida, is revolutionizing the way cancer is documented by enlisting the help of a computer to diagnose the disease in one of the largest patient populations in the nation: veterans.

Sophisticated artificial intelligence is capable of drastically altering how cancer is diagnosed and treated by learning to distinguish imagery of tissue containing cancerous cells from pictures of healthy tissue, a recent study in the Federal Practitioner journal claims. "If this helps save one veteran's life, this could be a major breakthrough for thousands of veterans and patients dealing with cancer diagnoses across the country," said VFW Director of Communications & Public Affairs Terrence Hayes. Dreaming of Product Invention? Here's How One Veteran Made it Happen

Disabled veteran Vernon Greene of Syracuse, New York, just wanted to stay upright while walking with his cane in rain and snow. One time he fell hard, injuring himself while trying to do everyday tasks. But he couldn't find a cane like the one he imagined. So he built one himself. Getting an invention patented is a multi-step process that involves a lot of waiting and is often best done with the help of a lawyer. Hoping to make it happen for yourself? Here's a few steps. Read more here.

National Capital Memorial Advisory Commission Discusses GWOT Memorial

On Tuesday, VFW National Legislative Service Associate Director Matt Doyle attended a meeting to discuss the placement of the Global War on Terrorism (GWOT) Memorial. At the meeting, the National Capitol Memorial Advisory Commission (NCMAC) discussed VFW-supported H.R. 5046, the Global War on Terrorism Memorial Location Act. This important legislation would authorize the GWOT Memorial to be placed within the Reserve, an area in Washington, D.C., that encompasses the National Mall and the Tidal Basin. Under the Commemorative Works Act, only Congress may authorize the placement of a memorial within the Reserve. The NCMAC considered whether the GWOT Memorial should be placed at any of the sites specified in the Global War on Terrorism Memorial Location Act and the potential impact of placing additional monuments and memorials within the Reserve. Military Still Struggles to Handle Kid-on-Kid Sexual Assaults

The U.S. Department of Defense is struggling to change how it handles the abuse of military kids, including cases involving sexual assault by other children, according to a report commissioned by Congress. The military has been slow to implement reforms that lawmakers mandated more than a year ago, said the report released Feb. 12 by the U.S. Government Accountability Office. The Pentagon still doesn't know the extent of child-on-child sexual assaults, in part because some officials dismiss incidents without reporting them and the Pentagon has no one place to track all cases that have been logged.
